

The mind-blowing box

I will put in the box

One of the stars from the sea blue sky,
The first dinosaur that roamed the land,
The first word of a crying baby.

I will put in the box

The whispering sea on planet Mars,
A hot desert in the wild Atlantic,
A sqwark from the first parakeet.

I will put in the box

A teacher barking at children,
A dog purring at a cat and cat yapping at a dog,
The splash of a water gun.

I will put in the box

The tiniest tickle of a tiny tortoise,
A mischievous monkey called Marcus,
A hope of winning the European war.

My box is fashioned with gold and silver
With diamonds on the lid and monkeys in the corners.

Hinges the fingers of people.

I will skate in my box.
